

Building Our Superpowers! Strengths Research to Practice

ADVANCING SCHOOL MENTAL HEALTH CONFERENCE

CLAUDETTE FETTE

PATTI DERR

Objectives:

1. Participants will compare strength-based models.
2. Participants will identify their own strengths and practice strength based strategies.
3. Participants will analyze common pitfalls in attempts to practice from a strengths perspective and develop solutions.

Who are we anyway?

The value of authentic experience

Mental HEALTH is:

Positive affective or emotional state (feeling happy)

Positive psychological and social function (self esteem/control, relationships)

Productive activities (doing things that are important to you)

Resilience (bouncing back)

(Bazyk and Arbesman, 2013)

What is Strength-Based?

"Raising children is vastly more than fixing what is wrong with them. It is about identifying and nurturing their strongest qualities, what they own and are best at, and helping them find niches in which they can best live out these strengths."

Seligman and Csikszentmihalyi (2000, p6)

What is Strength-Based?

- Basis of strength-based service delivery is “premise that even the most troubled youth have unique talents, skills, and other resources that can be marshaled in the service of recovery and development” (page 287-8).
 - Cox (2006)
- Even the most troubled systems have strengths.

Strengths in Wraparound

Strengths based. The wraparound process and the wraparound plan identify, build on, and enhance the capabilities, knowledge, skills, and assets of the child and family, their community, and other team members.*

Bruns, Walker, Adams, Miles, Osher, Rast, VanDenBerg, & NWI Advisory (2004)

Strengths Promotion in Schools

Strengths in Schools

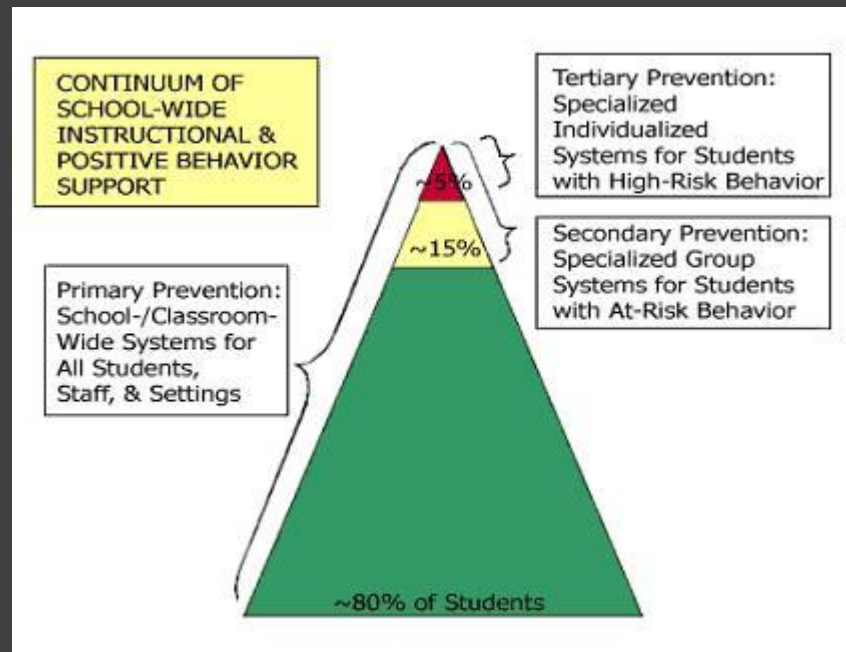

The identification of strengths is mandated in student's individualized education plans (IEP) within special education.

Can be difficult to ground IEPs in child strengths within a system for which deficits are the key to access.

Applying Public Health Approach to Mental Health

PBIS → Integrated Systems Framework

Tier 1

Tier 3

Tier 2

Tier 1 Universal Mental Health Promotion & Prevention

"Promotion efforts focus on competence enhancement and positive mental health in the whole population within the context of their everyday lives"

(Bazyk and Arbesman, 2013, p 21)

Tier 1 supports

- Social skills programming; Social and emotional learning curriculum <https://casel.org/>
- Positive behavioral interventions and supports <https://www.pbis.org/>
- Building opportunities for structured leisure activities <https://everymomentcounts.org/>
- Response to Intervention as a classroom/teacher support <http://www.rtinetwork.org/learn/what/whatisrti>
- Trauma sensitive schools <https://safesupportivelearning.ed.gov/trauma-sensitive-schools-training-package>

Tier 1 for Families?

Mental Health First Aid

Trauma Informed Care

Anti-stigma Efforts

Family Resource Centers

Family to Family education

Tier 2

Targets at risk youth who may not be diagnosed but may have behavioral changes; or youth with diagnoses but asymptomatic; at risk youth

- Recognition of trauma: historical, intergenerational, systems based ...
- Prevention (grading down demands/stressors) + promotion of competences to minimize early symptoms (Downing, 2011)
- Often small group interventions ... support groups, activity groups, skill development groups

Tier 2 supports

RtI in school settings

Instructional Support Personnel

- to modify tasks, environment to facilitate success
- to identify strengths
- to build and facilitate supportive activities

EBP

- social skills for antisocial behavior, ADHD, ID
- Play, leisure, recreational programming for ID, anxiety

(Bazyk and Arbesman, 2013)

Tier 2 for Families?

Families with their own histories or who are at risk of difficulty based on the challenges they are facing.

- Recognition of trauma
- Prevention
- Family to Family supports

Need a welcoming environment, opportunities to connect to others with their experiences ... to find “our own”

Tier 3

- Systems of care/wraparound
- Youth empowerment/create opportunities
- Identification of strengths and promotion of wellbeing
- Intensive play, leisure & recreation programs
- Accommodations to enable participation

(Bazyk and Arbesman, 2013)

Strengths in Positive Psychology

Clifton Strengths Explorer

Measures 10 “talent” themes for youth (34 for adults):

1. Achieving
2. Caring
3. Competing
4. Confidence
5. Dependability
6. Discoverer
7. Future thinker
8. Organizer
9. Presence
10. Relating

What is your Superpower?

Strategies!

Build Identity!

- Teach strengths, embed into curriculum
- Model naming and deliberately using your strengths
- Identify strength heros
- Name strengths in action “strengths spotting”
- Give strength based homework assignments
- Encourage use of strengths in new ways every day!

Strengths as Solutions!

- When there are challenges, look for how students can apply their strengths to build solutions
- Create interdependent teams that rely on strengths
- Practice reframing what you see as negative traits or behaviors from a strengths lens

Start with Yourself!

Self Care

Mindfulness

- Notice the ordinary; 5, 4, 3, 2, 1
- Notice/watch thoughts, feelings
- Meditation, yoga, tai-chi

Precautions - trauma

- Pay attention to responses, incorporate movement
- Use different anchors, focus outside the body
- Give choices, (Invite rather than command)
- Hit the brakes and respect boundaries

Treleaven, 2018

Goals

Give us back a sense of control

Help keep us moving

Goal Attainment Scaling

Pitfalls

Should individual people be carrying the largest part of the responsibility? Where does the environment need to step up?

- Do all children have opportunities to feel competent/successful?
- Do we know trauma and respond appropriately?
- Do I blame myself when I fail?
- Do I blame when my students fail?

Unger, 2018

Parting thoughts

- Reframing negatives; being persistent
- Habits and Routines; being persistent
- Exhaustion; being persistent
- Humor
- Exploring interests & building passions ...
- What are your challenges?
.... How can you use your strengths there?
