The MHTTC Network, established in 2018 and funded by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), supports resource development and dissemination, training and technical assistance, and workforce development for the mental health field. Through our School Mental Health Initiative, our Network focuses on the implementation of mental health services in schools.

Recently, the confluence of the COVID-19 pandemic and social isolation, natural disasters, racial violence, and other national issues have resulted in significant increases in mental health needs in school-age children and adolescents.

Our Network is responding to those needs by providing technical assistance, training and resources across key issues, including providing tele-mental health services, social isolation, grief, loss, and bereavement, mental health disparities and impacts of racial injustice, returning to school amidst COVID-19, educator well-being and self-care, and more.

We invite you to connect with the MHTTC in your region to access free training, technical assistance and resources available to you.
